

New Hampshire Woman Preacher. The Rev. Mrs. Nancy W. P. Smith, of Medford, Mass., has accepted the pastorate of the Universalist church at Newfields, near Exeter, N. H., and has entered upon her duties there. As the first woman preacher in the Granite State, she is attracting attention. She was formally welcomed by her congregation on July 23, and is now officially installed. Mrs. Smith is married.

Gross Outrages Upon the stomach and bowels are perpetrated by multitudes of incontinent people who, upon experiencing the annoyance of constipation in a slight degree, irritate their bowels with drenching evacuations, which enfeeble the intestinal membrane to a serious extent, sometimes, even, superinducing dysentery or piles. Hostetter's stomach Bitters is the true success remedy for these nostrums, since it is at once invigorating, gentle and effective. It also banishes dyspepsia, malarial complaints, rheumatism and kidney troubles.

PAINTING THE CAPITOL DOME. Governor Tuys Paint By the Ton for that Purpose. When the time comes to give the dome of the Capitol a nice, clean, white dress, the government buys paint by the ton.

The Goddess of Liberty, perched nearly 400 feet in the air, has been sighing for some time for somebody to come up to her high abode and attend to her toilet. Although made of bronze, the action of the atmosphere, and especially the electricity which plays about her massive form, give her a greenish look which she does not like. Consequently, within the last few days, a ladder has been rigged up from the balustrade at the summit of the dome to the foot of the statue and fearless men have been at work scraping the statue and especially repairing the iron pedestal upon which the great figure rests, which is getting rusty in the joints. The ladder, outlined against the sky, attracts general attention, while the human figures that run up and down its thread-like steps look like miniature men.

When the statue and its pedestal have been duly cleaned and repaired, the dome will be painted. This will take three or four tons of white lead, and the immense area of the dome can be imagined when it is stated that it will take half a dozen men at least two months to go twice over the surface. The men who do the work are not always the same. Any man who knows his trade and is not prone to dizziness is selected. When the dome is freshly painted it presents a dazzling appearance in the bright sunlight.

The painters are under the charge of Albert Porch, the rigger of the Capitol. He has no regard for height and has accomplished some remarkable feats to prove his clearness of head and firmness of feet. When the Knights of Pythias held their celebration in Washington he placed a number of electric lights around the Goddess, and then, in sheer bravado, climbed upon her head, and, placing his feet against her bronze crest of feathers, stood upright, with arms outstretched against the sky. In this elevated position he remained several minutes, while those who watched him held their breath in fear. A single mistle would have meant a tumble to instant death. Porch is the only man known to have stood on the top of the Goddess' head.—Washington Post.

Precious Stones in a Crater. An interesting discovery from a geological point of view, says Le Genie Civil, was recently made by an explorer in the mountains of Witzies Hoek, Natal. On the summit of an extinct volcano, on the edge of a lake that occupies the crater, soundings revealed a layer of sand enclosing small diamonds. It would be interesting to know whether these diamonds were there accidentally, that is, as the result of washing operations carried on by the natives, or whether this discovery corresponds to an actual mine of diamonds, for the hills of Witzies Hoek are not situated in regions known to be diamond bearing. On this last hypothesis, the presence of precious stones in the crater of a volcano would doubtless throw some light on the formation of the gems in nature.

Breeding Ground Hogs for Food. Henry Singer, a well-known anti-thrifty farmer, of near Duvall Station, Scott County, Ky., has for the past two years been domesticating the ground hog with much success. Mr. Singer found a burrow in which he captured seventeen ground hogs, and, taking them into a small lot on his place, he built a close wire fence through which none could escape. Last year the hogs increased to 205, and this year there were 1,073. Of this number Mr. Singer killed 1,000, which he salted away and will smoke dry, as Kentucky farmers do with ordinary pork. The ground hog, when so cured, is a great delicacy, and Mr. Singer has more than enough to furnish his meat for the coming year.—Southwestern Stockman.

Swearing Won't Help It. Swearing may make a fire burn, or it may make a deck hand hustle, but it won't help Tetter, or Ringworm. If you use Tetterine, it will make you comfortable and save swear words. 50 cents at drug stores, or by mail for 50 cents in stamps from J. T. Shaptrine, Savannah, Ga.

PHYLIS accidentally discovered a doll that her mother had concealed in a trunk in readiness for the little lady's birthday. The following day at dinner she surprised the family by remarking, "I'm trying so hard to forget something I want to remember that I don't feel very hungry."

WEIGHTY WORDS FOR Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"I can sincerely say that I owe my life to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. For seven years I suffered, with that terrible scourge, Scrofula, in my shoulder and my arm. Every means of cure was tried without success. I had a good physician who tried in every way to help me. I was told to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I immediately began its use and after taking seven bottles of this remedy the scrofula was entirely cured."—Mrs. J. A. GENTLE, Fort Fairfield, Me., Jan. 26, 1896.

SCOURGE IS MAKING STRIDES

ITS ADVENT IN TEXAS TOWN CAUSES CONSTERNATION.

THE SITUATION IS STILL SERIOUS

Reports of a Day From Various Towns and Cities in the Infected Districts. The town of Beaumont, Texas, has had a case of yellow fever. This is the verdict of Dr. R. M. Swearingen, state health officer. A majority of the local health board differ from the state official, but his verdict is the accepted one and the town is virtually isolated and the citizens are fleeing to the woods for refuge from the dread disease. The illness pronounced yellow fever, and which caused death, developed in Thomas Lovejoy, aged thirteen years. The little fellow was a newsboy and among other newspapers he handled a New Orleans paper.

Houston Is Excited. The death of the Lovejoy boy at Beaumont caused consternation in Houston. The town is rigidly quarantined. A number of health officers met Wednesday for a conference on the situation.

Report From New Orleans. The official record in the New Orleans board of health office Wednesday night showed a total of twelve cases for twenty-four hours and two deaths. The new cases for the most part widely scattered and several of them at least do not seem to have been the outcome of local infection. It is apparent that the microbes brought over in baggage from Biloxi and Ocean Springs are still incubating and that many more cases of fever are to be looked for.

Slight Increase at Mobile. There was a slight increase in the number of new cases of yellow fever in Mobile during the twenty-four hours, ending at noon Wednesday, but this was offset by the announcement that there were no deaths to report, that five of the patients were discharged and that all of the patients were doing well.

Fever in Louisville. The second case of yellow fever to develop in Louisville, Ky., was announced Wednesday by Health Officer White. The first case was that of Frank DeRumsey, who died August 16th. Mr. DeRumsey was from Ocean Springs. Soon after his arrival he was taken sick. He was removed to the infirmary, where he died in a few days. Every precaution was taken, and there was no spread of the disease. The second case was reported by Health Officer White Wednesday afternoon. The patient is John McDougall, a machinist in the Louisville and Nashville shops at Mobile. McDougall arrived from Mobile on September 9th. Worse at Biloxi. The fever situation at Biloxi, Miss., was less favorable Wednesday. The record showed one death and five new cases. The death was Michael Levy. Dr. John Guiteras, the government expert, passed through Memphis Wednesday night en route to Cairo. He was on board the government tug Minnetonka. His mission was to trace the origin of two cases of fever at Cairo. At a point near Gold Crest the tug sank. The doctor and crew made their way to the shore in boats.

CONVICTS UNDER DISCUSSION. Georgia Penitentiary Committee Hold an Important Meeting. The Georgia house and senate penitentiary committee met in the respective chambers at Atlanta Tuesday morning, and after a few preliminaries went into joint session. The first thing done was to notify the governor of their presence and invite any communications from him. Pending his appearance General Roy Stone by invitation addressed the body, urging the employment of the convicts in road work and the creation of a state highway commission. He told what had been done on the roads of California by convict labor and showed what beneficial results had followed good roads in New Jersey.

PASSENGERS DROWNED LIKE RATS English and Austrian Steamers Collide and the Latter Goes to the Bottom. A dispatch to the London Daily News from Vienna says that while the steamer Ika, with a crew of ten and carrying fifteen Austrian passengers, was entering the port at Flume, on the river Flumara, Tuesday evening, while a storm was blowing hard, she collided with the English steamer Tyria, which was leaving. The bows of the Ika were stove in and she sank in twenty minutes. Boats were hastily put off and saved the captain and seven others, but most of the passengers were drowned.

BILOXI APPEALS FOR AID. Mayor of the Town Calls for Help for Factory People. The city council of Biloxi, Miss., adopted resolutions calling on the public for aid, stating all factories and other industries have closed down, thus throwing laboring people out of employment; that nearly all sick are of that class and unable to purchase medicine and other things necessary in such emergency. The appeal is signed by the mayor and council.

REFUGEES SUFFER. President Advised of the Situation at Brandon, Miss. President McKinley received a telegram Saturday from the mayor of Brandon, Miss., stating that a number of yellow fever refugees were there in a sorry plight, owing to the lack of protection and inability to move away on account of numerous quarantines, closing all avenues to them. He asked for tents to shelter them, but gave no particulars as to the number needed.

PRESIDENT WILL ACT.

The Shooting of Hogsaville's Postmaster Will Result in Prosecution. The attempted assassination of the colored postmaster of Hogsaville, Ga., has attracted the attention of the whole country.

The shooting has aroused the government authorities, and President McKinley himself is making a personal effort to have the would-be assassins of the negro punished. District Attorney Angier announces that he will prosecute ex-Postmaster Hardaway to the fullest extent of the law for violating the postal laws.

It develops that the Hogsaville people had been told by the government authorities that they would lose their postoffice if they did not raise the boycott against Loftin.

The general opinion of the federal authorities is that the shooting of Loftin was the immediate result of the visit of the postoffice inspector to Hogsaville some days ago. The inspector went to Hogsaville to investigate the reported boycott. He found on arriving there that the citizens had not only boycotted Loftin, but were running a postoffice of their own, with ex-Postmaster Hardaway as their postmaster.

The inspector called a meeting of the citizens at his room at the Hogsaville hotel. The business men of the town responded and met the inspector, who told them that they were violating the law by operating a postoffice in opposition to the regular legal office. He further told them that they must raise their boycott or lose the postoffice altogether.

No attention was paid to the inspector's warning and his efforts to adjust the trouble proved vain. When he left they were still running the opposition postoffice. A day later Loftin was shot.

District Attorney Angier has received positive instructions from Washington to prosecute the case.

ATKINSON CRITICIZES M'KINLEY.

Intimates That President Is Accessory to Hogsaville Crime. Governor Atkinson, of Georgia, telegraphed the New York Herald, in response to a request for his views on the Loftin shooting, that President McKinley is morally an accessory to the crime of the man who shot the Hogsaville postmaster.

The governor does not defend the crime of the would-be assassin, but he blames the president for the condition which brought it on. The telegram was in response to a request from The Herald for the governor's views, and was substantially as follows:

"The court will convene in that county in November and the grand jury will investigate the matter, and if there is evidence to convict anyone there will be no trouble in punishing the guilty party. The officers are capable men and will do their duty. The shooting of the negro is universally condemned by the people.

"The same spirit of candor in which I have written compels me to say that our people are uniformly of the opinion that the man who appointed the postmaster at Hogsaville over the violent protest of those citizens who furnish ninety-nine one hundredths of the business of the office, who own almost the entire property of the community and who represent the forces which made and constitute the civilization of the community, knowing at the time that the appointment would be taken as a deliberate effort on his part to degrade and humiliate them, was himself, from a moral standpoint, an accessory to this lamentable crime.

"Even these men, who took this view, do not blame the republican party for giving positions to the negroes who have been faithful to them, but it would have been better for the negroes and pleasanter for the white people of the south if they had given them positions where they were not brought so directly in contact with the people to whom they are offensive as officers.

"You ask me what is going to be the effect of this. I reply that the effect will be the same it would be in Ohio if the same conditions prevailed. Leaving out the questions arising from prejudice, what would be the result in Ohio if the president, in making appointments, ignored the views of property holders and all the best elements of the community, and over their violent protest appointed to office a man whom he knew to be offensive to them?"

The governor concluded with the statement that the law would be enforced in Georgia without fear or favor.

"BAD POLICY," SAYS BACON,

Is the Appointment of Colored Men to Office in the South. Senator Bacon, of Georgia, has a signed interview in the New York Herald, in which he says in part:

"The appointment of colored men to office in the south will certainly lead to race antagonisms and estrangements which would otherwise not exist. Such appointments are of small benefit to the few negroes thus appointed, and are of very great injury to the masses of the negroes in the ill feeling engendered between them and the whites, upon whose friendship and good will they are wholly dependent."

REFUGEES SUFFER.

President Advised of the Situation at Brandon, Miss. President McKinley received a telegram Saturday from the mayor of Brandon, Miss., stating that a number of yellow fever refugees were there in a sorry plight, owing to the lack of protection and inability to move away on account of numerous quarantines, closing all avenues to them. He asked for tents to shelter them, but gave no particulars as to the number needed.

Giant of the Tar Heel State.

Will Austin, the tall man of Stanly County, is now working at the old blacksmith shop on Lee street. He was twenty-one years old on the 13th of April, measures 6 feet 9 3/4 inches in his stocking feet, and is still growing. He weighs 225 pounds and is apparently a skeleton now, but with large bones and muscles. He lifted when only nineteen years old a bale of cotton weighing over 500 pounds and carried it some twenty-five yards. Only recently three northern gentlemen offered him $5,000 to go in training for five years to fight the champion of the world. He has never smoked, chewed or drunk any intoxicants, and looks the picture of health. —Salisbury (N. C.) World.

Separable Tandem.

A Western manufacturer has placed on the market a novel separable tandem of exceedingly ingenious construction. In changing from a tandem to a single machine, by unscrewing four lock nuts, one in front of both saddles at the tube joints of the upper frame and one in front of both hangers on the lower frame, the middle section of the tandem is taken out. The front and rear sections are then joined, the lock nuts tightened, and a single machine is the result. It is claimed that this unique wheel, whether used as a tandem or a single, is rigid enough to satisfy a racing man.

A WOMAN'S EFFORT.

A Mother Sees Her Daughter in a Pitiful Condition, but Manages to Rescue Her. From the New Era, Greensburg, Ind.

The St. Paul correspondent for the New Era recently had an item regarding the case of Mabel Stevens, who had just recovered from a serious illness of rheumatism and nervous trouble, and was able to be out for the first time in three months. The letter stated that it was a very bad case and her recovery was considered such a surprise to the neighbors that it created considerable gossip.

Being anxious to learn the absolute facts in the case, a special reporter was sent to have a talk with the girl and her parents. They were not at home, however, being some distance away. A message was sent to Mr. Stevens, asking him to write up a full history of the case, and a few days ago the following letter was received from Mrs. Stevens:

"St. Paul, Ind., Jan. 29, 1897. Editors New Era, Greensburg, Ind. "DEAR SIR: Your kind letter received and I am glad to have the opportunity to tell you about the sickness and recovery of Mabel. We don't want any newspaper notoriety, but in a case like this where a few words will do so much to help a man recover for some child, I feel it my duty to tell you of her case.

"Two years ago this winter Mabel began complaining of pains in her limbs, principally in her lower limbs. She was going to school, and had to walk about three quarters of a mile each day, going through all kinds of weather. She was thirteen years old and doing so well in her studies that I disliked to take her from school but we had to do it.

"For several months she was confined to the house, and she grew paler and dwindled down to almost nothing. Her legs and arms were drawn up and her appearance was pitiful. Several doctors had attended her, but it seemed that none of them did her any good. They advised us to take her to the springs, but times were so hard we could not afford it, although we finally managed to get her to the Martinsville baths. Here she grew suddenly weaker, and it seemed that she could not stand it, but she became better, and it seemed that she was being benefited, but she suddenly grew worse, and we had to bring her home.

"She lingered along, and last winter became worse again, and was afflicted with a nervous trouble almost like the St. Vitus' dance. For some time we thought she would die, and the physicians gave her up. When she was at her worst a neighbor came in with a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and wanted us to try them as they were advertised to be good for such cases, and her daughter had used them for her nervous trouble, and she had been able to be out and about. She has taken about nine boxes altogether now, and she is as well as ever, and going to school every day, having started in again three weeks ago. Her cure was undoubtedly due to these pills.

(Signed) Mrs. AMANDA STEVENS. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, neuritis, paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, partial insanity, rheumatism, nervous headache, and after effect of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion, all forms of weakness either in male or female. The Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk or by the 100) by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

A Prose Poem. EE-M, Medicated Smoking Tobacco and Cigarettes Are absolute remedies for Catarrh, Hay Fever, Asthma and Colds; Besides a delightful smoke, Ladies as well as men, use these goods. No opium or other harmful drug used in their manufacture. EE-M is used and recommended by some of the best citizens of this country. If your dealer does not keep EE-M, Send 10c. for package of cigarettes, and 5c. for package of tobacco, Direct to the EE-M Company, Atlanta, Ga. And you will receive goods by mail.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly filling their cures with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and Hall's Catarrh Cure, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure. It acts directly on the mucous surfaces of the system, and it falls to cure. Pico's Cure cured me of a Throat and Lung trouble of three years standing.—E. CABY, Huntington, Ind., Nov. 12, 1894.

MRS. PETERSON'S STORY

I have suffered with womb troubles over fifteen years. I had inflammation, enlargement and displacement of womb.

The doctor wanted me to take treatments, but I had just begun Mrs. Pinkham's Compound, and my husband said I had better wait and see how much good that would do me. I was so sick when I began with her medicine, I could hardly be on my feet. I had the backache constantly, also headache, and was so dizzy. I had heart trouble, seemed as though my heart was throbbing at times choking me. I could not walk around and I could not sit down, for then my heart would be fast I would feel as though I was smothering. I had to sit up in my nights in order to breathe. I was weak I could not do anything.

I have now taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and used three packages Sanative Wash, and can say I am perfectly cured. I do not think I could have lived long if Mrs. Pinkham's medicine had not helped me. Mrs. JOSEPH PETERSON, 513 East Warren, Pa.

Zellin & Co. from manufacturing and selling medicine under the name of "Dr. Simmons' Liver Medicine." Zellin's answer to our bill said, the medicine was designed as a "cheap name" for the negroes of the Mississippi Valley. "And Zellin's manager testified that the name 'Liver Regulator' was used in the case, and Zellin's advertisements said 'the all the Liver Medicine they make is made the same formula.' What more conclusive evidence could there be that all their medicine is 'cheap negro medicine'?" Again, the United States Court, in the case of Zellin vs. Dr. M. A. Simmons, old proprietors of the article now called "Black Draught" from perverting fact by using the words constituting our name for the same formula.
